How do we provide advice?

When we provide you with personal advice it will be within a Statement of Advice (SOA). This document provides written confirmation of any advice you receive, its basis and scope, any fees or commissions and any benefits or associations we may have relevant to the advice provided.

On an ongoing basis, if you are provided with further advice either a SOA will be provided, or if there are no significant changes in your personal and financial circumstances, or the basis of the advice has not significantly changed since your last SOA was provided, your adviser will record this advice in a document called a Record of Advice (ROA). You have the right to request a copy of your SOA or ROA at any time.

If we recommend a particular financial product a Product Disclosure Statement (PDS) or Prospectus will be issued. These documents contain important information about a product and are designed to help you make informed decisions in relation to the product recommended.

In addition to instructions you give us in meetings, you can provide any additional instructions to us by phone or e-mail.

Any transactions undertaken will be confirmed in writing to you.

How does your adviser charge you for advice?

All fees and charges will be discussed and agreed between you and your adviser prior to providing and implementing their services.
